9. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Legislative Business

- 1) Action Item: SR #2017-03: Resolution in Support of Maintaining Current CNSM Science Learning Center and Mobile Science Museum Programs (3rd & Final Reading)

Sen. Elasmr presented the following:

- Added a whereas, where research shows inclusive learning when young, hands-on influences your major
- Hoping to hire a full time director in the future
- Want the university to increase support of SLC and MSM
- End of December is the cut off to support animals
- Task force created to look for a new director

Sen. Rincon commented that she has not heard that the task force was searching for a new director. She is unsure of what the first meeting would be concerning.

Mr. Haller asked if there are any students on the Task Force.

Sen. Elasmr responded that there are students including Sen. Rincon and the President of the CNSM Council. They are also looking to find volunteers from the SLC to be on the Task Force.

Sen. Gomez comments that he has heard of shutting down the SLC and MSM and heard in the Beach Team meeting that a member was distraught that it would close down. He sees how important this subject is and how it is now reaching others in the University.

Sen. Rincon commented that during the CNSM Council Meeting, the President noted that he would not be able to attend the first meeting and that is a problem in student involvement if the President is unable to attend future meetings

VP Vournas commented that the Task Force will, in the future, remember to accommodate for him. If not, they recommend there be a representative from the CNSM Council to take his place.

Sen. Nino comments that instead of discussing the resolution, what can the Senate do as a back-up in case the resolution falls through.

VP Vournas commented that because it is a function of the University, it is not in the scope of our power to help and take over the SLC.

Sen. Gomez says that there is not much more that the Senate can do about the MSM except writing and passing the current resolution.

VP Vournas states that after passing the Resolution, the Senate must do a lot of follow-up and they encourage the entire Senate to participate and advocate to keep the SLC.

Mr. Haller responds that if the Senate shows too much eagerness and assume too much responsibility, the CNSM program will drop the SLC into the hands of the University. He recommends that the Senate will wait through the process.

Sen. Elasmr comments that Senate should begin to take initiative on social justice issues. Another goal would be to advocate and support spiritual health.

Mr. Haller comments that the Senate should prioritize the Agenda because the list is too long and they will not be able to get all of the items finished.

Sen. Elasmr speaks about the resolution being worked on with Sen. Pandey and Sen. Musman and the perspective of international students and they want some points to be more revised. They do not want to limit students, but they want to focus on international students.

VP Vournas asks if the Study Abroad Scholarship only applies to students coming from CSULB to another institution.

students, but that does not mean that they will meet the qualifications. There are no scholarships specifically for international students.

VP Vournas clarifies that the Student Emergency Intervention and Wellness Program offers grants.

Sen. Pandey says that this resolution will inform and motivate students to reach for higher education. He talks about his own position, he cannot receive financial aid and has to pay out of pocket in order to pay for out of state tuition.

Sen. Al-Shoubaki comments that there are international students that are restricted in what they can or cannot accept by their government. She recommends reaching out to those students and find ways around giving scholarships by possibly providing them money for books or supplies.

Sen. Gomez questions whether or not international students are allowed to receive any money other than the full tuition paid for by their government.

Sen. Al-Shoubaki comments that Saudi students receive full tuition plus a stipend to spend money, but the Armani students do not receive a stipend, but some can depend on the student's situation. A lot of students cannot afford the textbooks so they will mostly share their books.

Sen. Gomez comments on how many students will be applying to these scholarships and asks about the qualifications of the scholarships and how it will effect certain students who are limited by their government.

VP Vournas clarifies that they cannot specify who can receive the scholarship because there is a blind review, where an ID that is sent out to students and the committee that decides who receives the scholarship is chosen based on answers.

Sen. Beltran comments that he had sat on a couple boards to approve of scholarships for the College of Engineering and knows that the donors of the scholarship must also approve the idea of who will be receiving the scholarships.

a) Heba Al-Shoubaki

Heba is a 4th year student in Kinesiology graduating this May. She says that she has had a lot of time to see what she has done in the past years. She discusses how in past years, she has kept in her safe environment and in the Muslim Student Association (MSA). She saw that she had not done anything she wanted to do, with working full-time and being in school full-time, she discusses that she was involved in MSA for 3 years.

She discusses the students in American Language Institute (ALI) where she sees students who were discouraged about things they could not do. These students said they gravitate towards students who are similar to them, so they are not going out and socializing with American students, and they were afraid that in joining clubs, they would be made fun of. Heba believes that there should be social mixers and have a place where ALI students can have a safe environment to interact with other students. There was a student who had Visa issues and only talked to Heba because she spoke his language, she believes that she could go do presentations to classmates on how she is there to help them.

Sen. Elasmr asks Heba what she would do as a Senator.

Candidate Heba responds that she wants to be involved with Disability Affairs and wants to help people who are under-represented. She also discusses the Climate Change Campaign on campus and wants to bring different people together to discuss things.

Sen. Jurado asks the candidate about her availability, Heba responds to clarify.

c) Judah Peralta

Judah is a double major in Political Science and Philosophy. He is former president of Hillside College. He worked under the Dean's administration in the College of Engineering. He created a mass database of Alumni and Faculty. He was also an intern for Ricardo Lara, facilitate a bill in homelessness in the LGBTQ community. He had previously run for the CLA Senator position and failed to be elected. He wants to perform outreach between different organizations in order to show what ASI does for the students.

Sen. Pandey asks what specific goals he has if he was Senator At-Large.

Judah said he wanted to focus on raising awareness on the position, where he sees a lack of knowledge on Senator At-Large positions, including the goals and duties of the position. He wants to represent the student population.

Sen. Cabrera asks if there is anything he believes that the Senate could do now on those issues.
